the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of public services, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the introduction of performance targets.

The public sector is also facing a number of challenges, including the need to improve the quality of services, the need to reduce costs, and the need to ensure that services are accessible to all.

The public sector is a complex and challenging environment, and it is essential that it is able to deliver the services that are required in a cost-effective manner.
