the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 6.5 million by 2020, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 4.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health and social care needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population.

The Department of Health (2000) has set out a number of key objectives for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These objectives are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key priorities for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These priorities are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key challenges for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These challenges are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key opportunities for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These opportunities are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key actions for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These actions are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key outcomes for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These outcomes are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.

The Department of Health (2000) has also set out a number of key indicators for the NHS to meet the needs of the ageing population. These indicators are: (1) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care; (2) to ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services that meet the needs of the ageing population; and (3) to ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the ageing population in a cost-effective manner.
